Anti-American Feeling Mounts In South Korea

GIs Restricted to Base Because of Demonstrations

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Anti-American demonstrations spread in South Korea today. The U.S. Army ordered American military personnel in the Seoul area restricted to base except for official business.

A U.S. Army spokesman called the confinement order a "temporary measure to reduce the possibility of incidents" in view of the wave of demonstrations demanding the U. S. government sign a status-of-forces agreement giving South Korea court jurisdiction over American servicemen in some instances.

About 300 university students defying stern new warnings from South Korea's ruling military junta marched out of Taegu University today in the third demonstration in a week stemming from the alleged beating of a Korean civilian trespasser by two U. S. Army officers last month.

A solid wall of police halted the students about 100 yards from the main gate of the university in South Korea's third largest city, about 200 miles southeast of Seoul.

Refusing to withdraw, the students squatted in the street and urged their protest into a sit-down strike. There were no reports of violence.

The government announced Friday night that the United States has agreed in principle to resume negotiations toward a status-of-forces pact. But it said Washington had raised issues which South Korea "finds difficult to accept."

It did not elaborate on these points but said the United States has been asked to reconsider them.

Reports from Washington quoted officials there as saying "very active consideration" is being given to an agreement.

These reports made clear however, that there is a division of opinion in Washington.

U. S. military men are said to feel that an agreement should not be concluded now because a technical state of war still exists in divided Korea and that is why about 50,000 American troops are stationed in this country.

Boy, 13, Ends Frosh Year At University

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lance Kerr could be almost any age. But he happens to be 13.

He finished his freshman year Friday at the University of California at Los Angeles. And, he admits, it went pretty well.

"It won't be an A average," he said, reviewing the grades he expects in anthropology, physics, math and Russian. "I believe I can depend on at least a strong B."

Lance is less than 5 feet tall, weighs 85 pounds, and speaks with the soft tenor voice of a youngster in his early teens.

But his vocabulary is vast, his pronunciation precise. He is quiet, poised and mannerly. He speaks like a grownup—one disarmingly posed as a slender boy.

Lance learned to read at age 2. How he learned was a mystery to his parents, Sylvia and Leon Kerr. "No one ever taught him," said Mrs. Kerr.

When he was just barely 4 he went to the library for a library card. The librarian made him prove he could read. He did, easily. By the time he started kindergarten, a few months later, he was reading 10 books a week.

He rushed through grade school, junior high and high school, mostly in private schools, and entered UCLA last September at 12.

"I intend to be a physicist," he said. "Everyone here (at UCLA) seems to assume I'll get a Ph.D. here. But that's too far in the future to tell about right now."

Where did Lance come by his genius?

"We don't know," said his mother. Both parents went to college, but neither showed signs of being an exceptional student. His father is a salesman, his mother an editorial employee of an electronics firm.

Tries To Check Growing Discontent

Franco Tightens Rule Over Spain

MADRID (AP) — Plagued by bombings and crippling strikes, Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime today suspended for two years the Spanish people's constitutional right to choose where they want to live in Spain.

Under the sweeping edict, the government can control the movement of anyone opposed to Franco and keep agitators out of industrial centers hit by a seven-week siege of strikes that paralyzed mines and key factories.

The strike—illegal in Spain—dropped off sharply late last month after the government promised some workers pay boosts of up to 50 per cent.

Franco's cabinet approved the decree suspending a key clause in Spain's bill of rights a few hours after the second bomb incident in three days rocked the Banco Popular, a big financial institution in the heart of Madrid.

Police blamed the left-wing Popular Liberation Front for the bombings which shattered windows in the bank and caused other damage. They were linked to recent strikes.

The cabinet pointed up the decree with an announcement which said:

"The campaigns which from outside are being made to harm Spain's credit and prestige have found echo and complicity in some persons who, using the liberties which the (bill of rights) recognizes, have joined such unworthy maneuvers."

Franco has charged that Soviet subversion and "hot-headed, separatist" Catholic priests played a major role in the strikes which idled more than 60,000 workers in the provinces of Asturias, Leon, Bilbao, Barcelona and Madrid itself.

Some priests have supported the North Basque region's demands for independence. Others have openly backed the strikes for higher wages.

Franco said, however, the attitude of some priests did not alter the fundamental harmony between the church and state. Roman Catholicism is the state religion in Spain.

Marilyn Fired And Sued by 20th Century

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe is out of work today—fired by the same studio that made her a star.

The sacking, which caught almost no one by surprise, came Friday only hours after Marilyn notified 20th Century-Fox that she was "ready and eager to return to work Monday morning."

But the studio wasn't impressed and called in Leg Remick to take over.

In another development, the studio announced it had begun legal action against Marilyn to recover $500,000 allegedly lost as a result of the star's frequent absences from the set.

Marilyn's absentee record included five performance days in seven weeks of shooting for the movie "Something's Got to Give." The picture now is 32 days behind schedule and more than $2 million in debt because of Marilyn's no-show.

"It's sad," said one front-office executive. "But no studio these days can afford to have Liz Taylor and Marilyn Monroe working at the same time — especially a studio that lost $25 million last year."

Miss Taylor's absences from the set have helped run the cost of "Cleopatra" to $30 million—the all-time high in movie costs.

Four Hurt In Road Mishaps

East Liverpool Man Reported Critical

Four East Liverpool residents were injured, one critically, in two of five accidents investigated by the State Highway Patrol on area highways Friday.

Admitted to East Liverpool City Hospital were:

Earl Temple, 30, lacerations of the arms, in critical condition. Alvin G. Bailey, 20, lacerations of the mouth and possible internal injuries, good.

Frank Young, 16, lacerations of the throat, fair. Maurice F. Livolsi, 21, fracture of left arm, fair.

According to the patrol, Bailey, a serviceman stationed at Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., was driving north on Rt. 30, one mile north of the city limits at 6:30 p.m., when he drove off the right side of the road and struck a parked car.

Young and Temple were passengers in Bailey's vehicle.

Livolsi was injured when he was struck by a hit-skip driver while driving his motorcycle south on County Road 427, one-half mile north of Wellsville, at 9:20 p.m. The patrol said a car driven north, ran off the right side of the road, struck a retaining wall, and veered left of center striking Livolsi's cycle.

Only minor damage was incurred in two one-vehicle mishaps. James Paul Davis, 21, of Homeworth was cited for failure to drive on the right side of the road after he was involved in an

West Losing Cold War, Graham Tells Crowd

CHICAGO (AP)—The free world is losing the cold war, evangelist Billy Graham told an overflow crowd of about 45,000 persons Friday night at the 10th rally of his Chicago Crusade for Christ.

Speaking about communism as one of the giants faced by youth today just as David faced Goliath long ago, Graham said: "There are some people who tell you we are winning the cold war. Well, don't you believe it."

"During my travels all over the world, I have seen communism infiltrating on every continent." Despite heavy rain and storm-filled skies, Graham drew a capacity crowd. Officials said several thousand persons were turned away. Many in the audience were under 25 years of age, in keeping with a youth night theme.

Graham told his youthful listeners that: "If we don't solve the problems of our generation, we will be handing you the most terrible problems faced by man. If ever we needed the love of God we need it now."

Massachusetts Dems Endorse Ted Kennedy

McCormack Plans Another Fight In Fall Primaries

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—Those ambitious, never-give-up Kennedys have done it again.

Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, eager 30-year-old brother of the President and of the attorney general, was endorsed by weary, hoarse Massachusetts Democrats Friday night as a candidate for the U.S. Senate.

In the big battle of famous political names, Kennedy piled up such a margin over Edward J. McCormack, 38, that McCormack gave up before the balloting was two-thirds completed.

With the score card showing Kennedy 691 to McCormack's 360, the voting was stopped.

McCormack came to the microphones, listened gratefully to the cheers of his supporters, and said:

"I want to thank all of those who had the courage to stand up and be counted in my behalf...I will now take my case to the people."

This means that even though McCormack lost here he will fight Kennedy again in the September primaries, a right he has under Massachusetts law.

Scarcely had McCormack left the platform than here came Kennedy, accompanied by his blonde wife, Joan, to get an even more rousing reception.

Kennedy said he was sure the people of Massachusetts will speak just as the convention delegates did.

"As of tonight," Kennedy said, "we're starting the campaign." McCormack is the nephew of House Speaker John McCormack, and waiting restlessly in the political wings is a young representative of yet a third famous family.

George Lodge, 34, son of the former United Nations ambassador, Henry Cabot Lodge, faces Rep. Laurence Curtis in the Republican convention a week from today.

First Place On Ballo t

Even though Friday night's victory didn't prove much—it gives Teddy first place on the ballot, plus a note that the convention endorsed him—the Kennedys go into everything from touch football to conventions aiming to win.

And young Teddy won here with a technique his brother developed in Massachusetts and perfected in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and West Virginia: bright young men in slick automobiles, pretty girls in crisp dresses, and unremitting industry behind scenes to make sure each delegate is reached again and again.

"SCHOOL'S OUT" SMILES — These youngsters at Fourth Street School were typical of the thousands of happy Salem boys and girls who wore big smiles as report cards were handed out and classes dismissed Friday afternoon for the summer. Pictured in foreground as the exodus began are Rick Coy, Dale Cody, Clyde Brown and Gary Jackson.

Summer School Classes Will Begin Next Week

The annual summer tutorial program conducted by the Salem Public School system is scheduled to get under way next Friday.

The Board of Education has approved the extension of its summer school program to include children in grades 4-9 in addition to those at the senior high level. Pupils outside the Salem City School District also will be permitted to sign up for these classes.

Students in grades 4-6 will be able to take summer courses in reading, arithmetic and art.

Astronomy, electronics and typing will be offered students in grades 6-9. Junior High pupils, grades 7-9, will be able to attend summer classes in reading and arithmetic.

Students in grades 4-9 have until noon Wednesday to register for summer school courses through their building principals. All children out of the school district will register in Supt. Paul E. Smith's office in the Junior High building.

There will be no classes organized for fewer than 10 pupils.

Fees will be $10 per course for residents of the Salem City School District and $18 per course for pupils from outside the district. Payment of fees must be made before a pupil will be admitted to the first class, Supt. Smith said.

Classes will be held at the Senior High School building. They will begin at 8:30 a.m. Friday and end at 12:30 p.m. July 27. Class periods will be two hours in length. There will be no afternoon or Saturday classes except for astronomy which may be held in the early evening.

At the senior high level, the following subjects will be offered in the summer tutoring classes: U.S. History and government, two hours per day; World History, two hours per day; sociology, one hour per day; personal typing, one and one half hours per day; drivers education, two and one-quarter hours per day; spelling, one hour per day for two weeks; and electronics, one hour per day.

The fee for the spelling course will be $4. The charge for all other senior high courses will be $10.

Congressmen Alleged to Have Taken Money

Republicans Blaze Away at Firing of Minority Counsel

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House subcommittee is reportedly trying to lay its hands on an alleged list naming congressmen and an administration official as receiving money order gifts from Billie Sol Estes.

This was reported Friday by the subcommittee's dismissed Republican counsel, Robert E. Manuel. He spoke to reporters outside a hearing room where the subcommittee was taking testimony that two former agriculture department officials had received such money orders.

James T. Ralph, former assistant secretary of agriculture, told the government operations subcommittee that he and his aide, William E. Morris, each received a pair of $100 money orders from Estes, last January—and turned the money over to the Democratic party.

Both Men Fired

Both Ralph and Morris have been fired because of their connections with the indicted Texas promoter whose boom-to-bust operations under government farm programs have stirred charges he carried and got favored treatment from officials.

Ralph denied accepting gifts from Estes and also denied that he or anyone else in the agriculture department had ever granted favors to Estes.

Meanwhile Republicans blazed away at the dismissal Thursday of Manuel as the minority counsel on the subcommittee which is headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain, D.N.C.

The Democratic majority on the committee voted to fire him for leaking an agriculture department report on Estes to a newspaper. But the Republican congressional committee charged Manuel was "dumped...when he found out Estes had chummy contacts" with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson had no comment. The Republican Campaign Committee called the subcommittee's hearings "a fraud upon the American people and a testimony to the fact that America needs a Republican House to restore honesty to government."

Speaking to reporters, Manuel said Morris had a list of persons who allegedly got Estes' money orders.

"The testimony taken in executive session related to a list of individuals to whom Estes allegedly sent gifts in the form of money orders," said Manuel at an informal press conference.

The list, he said, includes the names of "certain members of Congress and at least one very high-ranking administration official."

Ralph added he has no personal

At Assembly Church

Rev. Marty Karl

Rev. Marty Karl, a singing revivalist who severed relations after performing two years with Arthur Godfrey, will be guest speaker at the First Assembly of God church tonight and Sunday at 7:45.

A former member of the Mariners Quartet on the Godfrey program, Rev. Karl gave up his $1,000-a-week show business contract because "I didn't feel I was accomplishing anything worthwhile." His feeling of usefulness led the Missourian to religious pursuits and finally to preaching the gospel and singing sacred music.

Rev. W. T. Dick is pastor of the Assembly of God church.

Our Fine Young People

I hear quite a lot of derogatory talk about young people and would like to make a few positive remarks about them. To my way of thinking they are pretty O.K., and personally I have a lot of respect for them.

Oh, certainly, there are some sour ones who have gotten off the beam. Actually the few swaggering, swearing, would-be-tough juveniles are not as obnoxious as they are downright pathetic. The fact is they just don't know the score—and if they aren't careful will become passe or as some of the kids say, 'out of it.'

The reason we hear so much about these infants is because they are a perversion of the norm. If the day ever comes when we take for granted that this small minority mirrors all our youngsters, then we will really be in for trouble.

THE VAST MAJORITY of our young people are high-class, good kids. There are countless youngsters who reveal qualities of mind and heart which makes you almost choke up with pride that this country is producing such fine children.

For example, take the following letter written by a college girl to her parents. It was sent to me by her mother who is obviously so fine a person herself that it is easy to understand the kind of daughter she has. Here is the letter:

Sunday 11 a.m.

Dear Mom & Dad,
Hi, how are you this beautiful Sunday morning? I am fine.

My roommate and I got up at 8:30. We ate breakfast and then we walked back and went into Beck Chapel and prayed for awhile. It was really neat.

I am so thankful I am able to go to such a wonderful college and to be able to enjoy it as much as I do. I am thankful for all my friends and just everything.

I realize I have much to be thankful for. I really love college and I know I am happier than I have ever been in my life. It seems that every day just presents something more to be thankful for.

College has given me a wonderful opportunity to find myself. I hope that I choose to lead my life in the right and good way. I truly think I will.

I know that I always will. I know that I will be happy if I have God and my parents with me. I could do anything if I just have faith in God.

Your loving daughter,

DOESN'T A LETTER like that warm your heart?

Let's believe more sincerely in the sturdy qualities of our young people and encourage them to realize their best selves. When we surround our children with love, faith, respect, normal attention and cooperation their powers flow freely and effectively. And a child who starts out in life with a feeling of partnership with God in his school work will know that he has undefeatable resources.

It is a good idea to pray for our children every day—perhaps along these lines: "I thank you, Lord, for our child. Help him to see God in himself. Let me be a stimulus to him to be God's child with God's powers operating in him. Let him know of my faith in him. Help him to realize his best self."

And parents everywhere should try harder to live up to their children.

Damascus Club Hear Talk, Fetes Honor Graduates

DAMASCUS — The Damascus Ruritan Club members had as their speaker Wednesday evening Timothy Maina of Kenya Colony, Africa, when they met in the Methodist Church for dinner.

Andrew Flp of Beloit was also a guest. High ranking students of West Branch High School were honored. They are Marsine Flp, Judy Howenstein and Nelson Coleman, Valedictorians, and Patricia Nesbeth and Neal Sangree, Salutatorians. They were presented plaques.

Plans were made to attend the First Christian Church in Salem in a body June 17. The next club meeting will be July 11.

55 Attend Practice Of County 4-H Band

LISBON — Fifty-five prospective members attended the first session of the Columbiana County 4-H Band practice Thursday evening at the Lisbon Grange hall. Jack Shaffer of Minerva, who was in charge, will direct the band again this year.

Tariff Hearings For U.S. Pottery Firms Scheduled

The U.S. Tariff Commission has notified two dinnerware manufacturers' associations it has set hearings in Washington beginning July 25 on their petitions to seek protection against imports under the so-called "escape clause" in the present tariff act.

The petitions were filed by the U. S. Pottery Association, representing principally the district producers of semi-vitreous dinnerware, and the American Fine China Guild, comprised of manufacturers of high-grade china-ware for household use.

An "onrushing tide of imports" will cause the domestic industry to vanish unless relief is granted, the USPA declared in its petition.

The two groups ask either an basis, allocated among foreign countries, or a complete withdrawal of concessions and the imposition of duties at a rate 50 per cent above the levels of 1934.

The petition declared that a boost to a level 50 per cent above the 1934 figure may not be sufficient to save the industry.

The petition of the American Fine China Guild contends that statistics show a downward trend in sales, production and employment among its member firms, along with a decline in its share of the growing domestic market during the 12-year period since tariff concessions were made.

Japanese and European pottery producers expect to be represented at the Tariff Commission hearings, opposing any upward change in U.S. protection that might result.

The Fine China Guild is comprised principally of firms that produce ware of a quality sold by the place setting in jewelry stores—such firms as Lenox China, Syracuse China, Gladding-McBean in Los Angeles and Castle-ton in New Castle.

Firestone, George Gonzales, Russell Hendricks, James Pendry, Lynn Riddle, John Ruhl, Peter Opincar, Garrett Willis, Jesse Ballantine, Russell Poppel, Clarence Wetzell, John Oliver, Clyde Hadley, Albert Webber and William Briggs.

Plans Completed for Potato Field Day

Plans were completed for the Eastern Ohio potato field day Aug. 15 at the Barth farm south of Poland when the board of directors of the Columbiana-Mahoning Potato Growers met Thursday evening at the Barth farm, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

Indications are there will be a large display of equipment and supplies. The program will include demonstrations of various kinds of equipment and a tour of the farm and potato fields.

Lunch will be served at noon. The board will meet again in July to review plans. A complete program will be announced later, Lower said.

Fungi can spoil plants. One of every ten automobiles in the United States is in California.

June Bride

In a moment, the organist will strike a chord. There will be a sudden hush in the church, then the strains of the wedding march will peal forth and she will take her father's arm and start up the aisle, her measured steps symbolic of the very real hesitation she will be feeling.

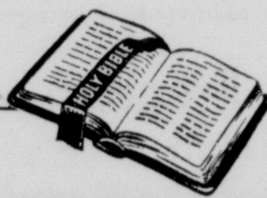

She would not be human if she did not hesitate. These steps she is about to take are the most important steps of her life. She is poised on the threshold of another existence in which the pronoun she uses will be "We" and not "I." Soon she will learn to think of another before she thinks of herself. Presently, she will come to know fully the meaning of the word "share."

As she moves forward, she falters for just a second. Then her step becomes sure, her lips curve in a smile. The church through which she walks is dear and beloved to her—and so is the man who stands waiting for her beside the altar. Her marriage, blessed by faith, is beginning where all marriages should begin—in the Church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Never Underestimate Richard Nixon

There was a possibility Richard M. Nixon might have been knocked off in the California primary by his Republican opponent for governor, Joseph C. Shell.

There was a possibility candidate Shell might have polled enough Republican votes to let California Democrats boast that candidate Nixon had backed into the nomination.

There is a possibility the far-right-wingers who backed Shell may stay away from the polls and try to hurt candidate Nixon by their absence. There's a possibility his Democratic opponent in the race for governor, Gov. Edmund G. Brown, may make mincemeat of him in the November showdown.

Yet, if one thing can be said about Richard M. Nixon without fear of contradiction by either his political friends or opponents it is this:

Never underestimate him.

He is the kind of political figure who fights hardest and best when challenged. That was the way he came to attention in California—by fighting from behind to get to Congress against the combined resources of the New Dealers who didn't want him to be there and the Fair Dealers who didn't want him to stay there.

That was how he brought himself to the attention of the party leaders looking for a running mate for Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952. It was how he survived the slur made on him during the campaign. It is how he withstood savage attacks by the Communist party and its sympathizers.

In the 1960 presidential campaign, his loss by a handful of votes against the most formidable combination of big-city political machines ever put together by the Democratic coalition gave his critics a chance to sneer that the image of Nixon invulnerability had been shattered. The "detractors" went to work in earnest. To hear them one might have thought the former vice president of the United States rued the day he got into politics.

We suspect Gov. Brown, an able and highly intelligent man, is not buying their idea. The prime rule of those who go up against Richard M. Nixon in a political contest is never to underestimate him. It was followed scrupulously by the Kennedy campaigners of 1960, who otherwise wouldn't have been close enough in the voting to have pulled the all-time squeaker election out of the fire, thanks to its big-city political machines, with special thanks to the one in Chicago that counted the votes its own peculiar way.

Common Market Shows Its Teeth

The best thing that could have happened to jar business in this country awake to the new realities of business in Europe was Common Market retaliation for U.S. tariff boosts on carpeting and glass.

Greatest of the new realities in Europe is the collective strength that can be brought to bear by a Common Market collective decision. No sooner did President Kennedy yield to pressure at home to protect carpet and glass manufacturers by boosting tariff rates from 21 to 40 per cent than the European Common Market increased duties as much as 100 per cent on five classes of American products sold abroad.

The effect was to double to about 40 per cent of their value the duties on U.S. polyester, polyethylene and artificial and synthetic textiles and to raise from 16 to 19 per cent the duties on U.S. varnishes and water colors.

Belgium was to have been the principal target of the tariff boosts; it is the principal Common Market producer of carpeting and glass. When it retaliated, the other five members of the Common Market—France, Italy, West Germany, Luxembourg and the Netherlands—showed their teeth too. When that happened, the principal target of the U.S. tariff boosts because the manufacturers of the articles that drew Common Market retaliation.

Something had to drive home the real reason this country must get on a good footing with this growing organization that promises to change the nature of international trade. It is not love but fear.

The Common Market collectivizes the bargaining resources of its members. If it lives up to only a fraction of its potentialities it will make the British Commonwealth and the sterling bloc, powerful as they were and still are, look like practice sessions for the real game.

The United States could be isolated more completely than its own isolationists ever dreamed of isolating it with tariff walls.

If in due time the expanding Common Market evolved into a political federation, similar to the federation of the original states in America, U.S. enterprise would find itself in competition with a new entity in Europe that would dwarf it in population, resources and, according to all present indications, productivity.

It now has had a fair sample of the length and sharpness of the Common Market's teeth.

Losing the Game and the Candle

Secret Army terrorists in Algeria apparently are the latest well-publicized group to learn that the end does not justify the means. The game isn't worth the candle if both it and the candle are lost.

In their case, the means they employed was terror to thwart independent status for Algeria. But the terror backfired.

It convinced the Europeans in Algeria they could expect no security in a place where terror had become a way of life. Instead of thinking of the Secret Army as a means of thwarting independent status for Algeria, they began to think of it as the source of insecurity.

Realizing that the Algerian Moslems who had been the Secret Army's victims would seek revenge once they had been given authority, the Algerians who had the option of leaving for Europe departed in drives. The Secret Army had proved its point at the expense of the wrong people.

Now it is trying to prove another point—that it can turn off terror at will. At the end of last week it was reported to be dickering for a truce with the Moslems, based on a three-day "peace demonstration." It had turned off its own terror for three days.

The purpose was to prove to Algerians who already had fled to Europe and to others preparing to leave that security in Algeria depends on the terrorists, not on the French government. That has been self-evident for a long time.

Equally self-evident, however, is the ability of the terrorists to destroy security. It is like the scene in the old-fashioned melodrama when the villain, after having tried to burn down the poor widow's house and force her to accept his unwelcome advances, turns sweet and asks, "Why do you fear me, Nellie?"

By the time some men realize the value of money they don't have any.

It's good upbringing that makes a couple's own children grand children.

You usually are sitting pretty when you are in good standing.

Nice Work

Edward and Wallis had tottered past their 25th wedding anniversary and if I'd thought about it in time I'd have sent them a card from the rack at the drug store.

They've given me the longest run for my money I ever had in an argument. I'm still arguing.

I was on the losing side when millions of us helped King Edward VIII, king of Great Britain, Ireland etc., etc., to make up his mind about Mrs. Wallis Warfield, a Baltimore divorcee.

The lady I gave up a life of distinguished service as a rehabilitated juvenile delinquent to marry was on the winning side. We used to yell at each other about Eddie and Wallie as if anyone else wanted to hear what we thought. Our feelings ran high.

She thought love should conquer all and the English were being stuffy for snooting their young king's affaire l'amour. Edward was going on to 43 at the time. His 43rd birthday came 20 days after his wedding day on June 3.

Everybody thought of him as a young king in 1937 because that was still his image; he was a perennial "prince of Wales." Oddly, though, they thought of Mrs. Warfield, who would not be 41 until June 19, as being more mature, she having been married twice before and a member of the high-stepping international set.

If you weren't around then and have no first-hand recollection of what went on, dearly beloved, you missed the argument of your life. As I say I had chucked everything to marry, ended up on the winning side. She said if Stanley Baldwin and his stick-in-the-muds wouldn't let the kids get married, Eddie should tell them what they could do with their throne, which he did. And they did it.

My losin' diffence was that these weren't knaws the distinction between running th dashes and the cross-country.

I argued that the British Empire had doked in a couple hundred thousand pounds to prep their princeling for the thing he had been born to do and no man of honor would run out on such an obligation over a state of emotion involving a woman. Let it be to my credit that I never knocked Mrs. Warfield which was common at the time among people who sniffed that they couldn't see what Edward saw in HER. I thought she was lovely.

But I couldn't see why a British king would throw over his throne for any woman. Edward had been given every consideration and advantage because he was in line to be king of Britain, Ireland, etc., etc. It was his destiny. It was his duty. It was his obligation. Noblesse oblige. He had a contract.

The way I looked at it, if noblesse didn't oblige it should be like the rest of us—and I sensed from the beginning that Edward and Wallis had no intention of being like the rest of us. Working stiffs, that is.

I was right. The Duke and Duchess of Windsor have been having their cake and eating it for 25 years. It's nice work if you can get it, but I don't have to admire 'em for it.

Bumpy German Roads

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS

As every German knows, but some New Frontiersmen forget, West German Chancellor Adenauer was already running in Germany on a God Bless America platform when President Kennedy was a young congressman from Massachusetts and quite understandably too busy getting ahead to have time to do detailed homework on postwar Germany.

Chancellor Adenauer has his pride, and his memories. Therefore in light of his fervent pro-Americanism, Dr. Adenauer has reacted bitterly to the diplomatic drubbing handed to him and his ambassador in Washington, Wilhelm Grewe. As Dr. Adenauer keeps stressing to visitors and to various pen pals, American business seemed quite out of proportion to the incident involving the leak to the press of proposed American concessions on Berlin.

Washington has tended to put down Dr. Adenauer's bitterness as a passing matter primarily related to his temper that is not necessarily sweetening with the passage of years.

But the unhappy fact is that the bumpy course of American-German relations in the past has begun to raise questions that go deeper than any momentary bitterness of a single aging leader.

THE OTHER POINT of view was vividly put in a letter to this correspondent from an American writer now residing in Berlin.

"Correct me if I am wrong," the letter began, "but isn't the evidence overwhelming that the New Frontier is chronically and petulantly anti-German?"

"As an American, I have tried my best, and so have many others to go out before German audiences in the America House here in Berlin and on TV and try to beat down this cumulative pride, my sense of truth and honor, and I will no longer speak what may turn out to be a lie."

"God knows the Germans have their faults, as which of our Allies does not? But the fact remains that they to date have been true to our alliance, strong in Berlin, faithful to their NATO troop commitments, reasonably generous in their financial contributions to this or that 'developing country.'"

"And the most exasperating and truly terrifying aspect of this whole dreary matter is that the Germans, in the end, can do damage us a lot more than either the British, the French or the Italians by edging out of the alliance either in slow stages or in more rapid panic."

"The feeling here in Berlin, to put it bluntly in the Berlin manner, is that the New Frontier has been trapped into posing for the babydoll of cheap popularity."

"President Kennedy Draws a line, and warns the Communists that if they dare step across it, something drastic will happen. They do step across it. Valiantly, the President of the United States takes action—he draws another line."

"After all, our President got elected by an eyelash promising a New Frontier. The only one he has produced so far runs right down the middle of Berlin, the worst overt Communist aggression in Europe since the Prague coup back in 1948 and one of the most brazen territorial coups since Hitler slid into the Rhineland in 1936 with eight divisions, against France's 68, while Popular Front intellectuals like Leon Blum sat mumbling about keeping the peace."

OVERDRAWN? Like many expressions of views from Berlin which is after all an exposed and tense outpost, the fears expressed in this letter may be overdrawn—for today. But in four separate trips to Germany in the last 12 months, this writer found echoes of deepening disquiet.

This disquiet is not yet taken even half seriously in Washington, which of course would deny any conscious anti-German bias—unless it is anti-German to trust Bonn far less than for instance, Great Britain.

Indeed, Washington's current thesis on Germany is a remarkable one. It is that most of its German problems are the product of the uncertainties surrounding the fight over Dr. Adenauer's succession and the fact that—in Washington's opinion—he is isolated from the new progressive elements in Germany.

Thus it is quite frankly stated that President Kennedy is perfectly willing to wait him out on certain cold war issues banking on the fact that his successors will be more in harmony with America's policies.

This reasoning is based on the further assumption that Dr. Adenauer policies on East-West issues do not necessarily coincide with either the German national interest or the popular will. Could this be misconception?

THERE ARE some unheeded voices, mostly in Europe, who have warned that it would be a great miscalculation to imagine that Dr. Adenauer was tougher minded than the majority of Germans in this matter of dealing with the Russians on Berlin.

Indeed, many European diplomats contend that the heart of American German problems is a basic difference between those on the front lines in Europe and those in Washington on how to deal with West Germany, this school argues, could be more flexible than Dr. Adenauer on such things as concessions on Berlin. And until this is faced, the argument continues, it will be hard to prevent American-German relations from turning into a permanent humpty dumpty that all the king's horses and all the king's men cannot put together again.

A Stuttering Cure?

By STUART H. LOORY

Drug Aids Some With Speech Defects

NEW YORK—From the time he started school as a 6-year-old Charles H. Fish had a stuttering problem. During junior high school it lessened, but in high school his stuttering grew worse than ever, and it stayed with him in college and in his work.

Despite the stuttering, Charles Fish became a physician—a specialist in preventive medicine and public health on the staff of the Fairview State Hospital in Costa Mesa, Calif. Most of his work involved mentally retarded patients at the hospital.

In 1957, Dr. Fish, who was then about 30 pounds overweight, began taking dextroamphetamine, a drug better known under its trade name, Dexedrine, to help pounds and something more.

During the course of his treatment, his stuttering disappeared. For the first time in 37 years, he found, he could talk without stuttering noticeably.

The amphetamine drugs, including Dexedrine have been used ever since their introduction in the early 1930s to treat a varied assortment of maladies ranging from overweight to epilepsy. They have been tried as a means of counteracting depression in pregnant women and to help those withdrawing from alcohol. They have proved effective in overcoming the symptoms of fatigue—in acting as pep pills.

fornia, he gave dextroamphetamine to five mildly retarded patients who stuttered. There was improvement in all five.

The results convinced him he should try a larger study to test the effect of the drug on stuttering. He designed a "double blind" experiment involving 106 mentally retarded patients with speech defects of all sorts. Twenty-two suffered from immature speech, distorted speech, lisps, psychoses producing speech defects, brain damage, cleft palate and monoglossism.

Commenting on the report of Dr. Fish and Mrs. Evelyn Bowling, a speech therapist, to the medical journal, California Medicine, Dr. Ronald R. Koegler, of Los Angeles, indicated the results of the study might not be statistically significant.

He further suggested that in Dr. Fish's own case, the stuttering disappeared because "he was so happy by the loss of weight that his general mental outlook improved and along with it his stuttering."

DR. FISH doubted this was the case. He admitted the drug did not help everybody and said he was now trying to isolate those whom it did help. He has found it does not help so-called "primary" stutterers—those who suffer the defect for no apparent reason.

On the other hand, it does help some individuals whose stuttering is due to emotional problems.

Now Dr. Fish and Mrs. Bowling are trying to find out which group or groups of stutterers the drug might help. "I'm not over-enthusiastic for this drug," he said in a telephone interview. "It is not a panacea. But if we can find out whom it does help it can change thousands of lives. This is trial and error. We're trying to find the right combination. We've had many failures and we don't know why."

Dr. Fish's own stuttering has not been serious now for five years. One patient has been taking the drug for more than a year without side effects (which do trouble many). All this is enough to give the 48-year old Dr. Fish encouragement.

Revolution Prospects

By WILLIAM RYAN

MEXICO CITY (AP)—What are the chances for a new Castro-style revolution in Latin America?

Communists and their Castroist allies work throughout the hemisphere to bring about a new explosion. They operate on the theory that one more such upheaval would wreck U.S. hopes for the United States.

Recently, the left-extremists seemed to have chosen two prime targets for their efforts: Venezuela and Ecuador. In Venezuela they met two successive defeats in attempted military uprisings.

That could make little Ecuador, a land of perplexing paradoxes, a promising theater for the Communists. A country of towering mountains and fertile soil, it is rich in possibilities but poor in social and economic development.

Ecuador's president, 42-year-old Carlos Julio Arosemena, will visit the United States in July for talks with President Kennedy. Arosemena has indicated he is no admirer of the United States—that, in fact he has an anti-Yankee complex.

Ecuador's current situation had its beginnings in 1961. Arosemena then vice president led a delegation on a junket to the Soviet Union and satellite countries and was lionized there. To some in Quito it seemed an odd coincidence that President Jose Velasco Ibarra came violently under attack shortly after Arosemena returned from Moscow.

The spark was a new tax decree. Students demonstrated. Velasco tried to put down the rioting but people were killed and the pressure grew. The worried army pushed Velasco aside and tried to install a provisional president pending new elections, but rioting broke out once again. This time it was with demands for Arosemena's constitutional accession to the presidency. The army bowed.

Later, flushed with victory, the Communists began demanding an armed student militia. That may have scared Arosemena.

In April, the army command gave Arosemena an ultimatum to break with Cuba and the Soviet bloc and to kick Communists out of high places.

Arosemena bowed to the rupture in relations, but the Communists and extremists remained in influential positions—in the university, in the government-run "House of Culture," in information and communications spots, in the student federation.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Did you ever have a key that was hard to "work" in a keyhole? For two years our front door key has jammed.

My neighbor told me to put oil on the key itself and insert it in the lock... then turn it a couple of times. This is fantastic. The key now works beautifully and without effort.

STICKY KEY

DEAR HELOISE: The most fantastic thing I discovered recently is to soak ink stains in sour milk overnight. It's amazing but the ink really comes out.

The garment must then be washed as usual.

WINNIE STOCK

DEAR HELOISE: Let me tell you a good way to remove bubble gum from fabrics: Chew another piece of bubble gum until all the sweetness is gone out of it. Then use this piece of gum to pick off the gum in the garment... the garment should be chilled before hand.

KIRE SCOTT

The three keys I carry on my key ring are very much alike. Two are made by the same company and it could be very confusing. So I painted the top part of my house key with fingernail polish so that it is easy to spot among the others. The ignition key has a little bit of red floss tied in the hole. Now keeping them sorted is no problem at all.

DEAR HELOISE: I would like to know how to remove the lint that collects on my hair brush. My beauty operator tells me this comes from my chennille bedspread.

The lint imbeds itself way down at the bottom of the bristles and no amount of solutions or soaking will remove it... much less combing.

GLADYS EVANS DEAR HELOISE: Your beauty operator is exactly right. Don't doubt her. Here is a solution to keep lint from forming on the brush: put the thin part of a nylon stocking over the brush BEFORE brushing your hair. Then brush.

When the stocking is removed... all the loose hair and lint are caught in the stocking mesh, leaving a clean brush. These "stocking-brush-catchers" can be made by cutting sections from the leg of any discarded stockings about the length of the brush itself. Terrific!

In his talk with reporters outside the hearings, Manuel issued a statement denouncing the inquiry and criticizing chairman Fountain.

Tractor, Mower Contract Is Let By Park Board

Stark's Equipment Co. of North Canton was awarded a contract by the Salem Park Commission Friday for a utility tractor with a reel-type three-gang mower.

Their bid of $3,190 was the lowest of eight bids considered. The purchase price was considerably under the estimated cost of $3,800.

The tractor purchased is a Massey-Ferguson MF 35, while the mower is a Roseman Park Challenger. The Park Commission met after the opening of bids at noon Friday and awarded the contract.

The deal included a trade-in by the Park Commission of a small 1955 tractor with a five-gang mower.

Bids ranged from the $3,190 by Stark's to a high of $3,800 by the Salona Supply Co. of Salem. The winning bid was $3,990, less $800 for the trade-in. Other bids (less the trade-in allowance in parentheses) were as follows:

A. J. Loudon Co. of Hanoverton, $3,349.65 ($150); Shaw and Bates of Lisbon, $4,152.25 ($887.25); Good Equipment Co. of Youngstown, $4,150.78 ($800.78); Gause & Richey Farm Supply of Lisbon, $3,977 ($602); Harry Unkefer Sales and Service of Minerva, $4,050 ($650); and Bare's Farm Equipment of Ellsworth, $4,455 ($825).

A bid submitted by Columbiana Tractor Sales was not considered since its tractor did not have live power take off as required in the specifications.

C. F. Tomlinson, superintendent of parks and recreation, said delivery of the new tractor and mower is expected in two or three weeks.

The evangelist said David slew Goliath because David committed himself to God. David, he said, "spent hours meditating on God. He wasn't rock and rolling all the time. He wasn't at the corner drug store all the time. But he wasn't a sissy either although some of the fellows might have thought him queer or strange.

"David was a man of great moral strength, and great courage," Graham said.

At the end of Graham's sermon, an estimated 1,300 persons came forward to make what crusade officials term "a decision for Christ."

First it was Ralph Terry. Then it was Bill Stafford. Now it's Jim Coates. And in the last three games the New York Yankees' problem-plagued pitching staff has allowed a grand total of eight hits and no runs.

Coates added to the string Friday night, taking over when ace left-hander Whitey Ford was forced out with shoulder pains after the first inning and permitting only one hit the rest of the way as the Yankees blanked Baltimore 1-0.

It was the third consecutive shutout for the Yankee mound crew, weakened by the absence of relief specialist Luis Arroyo and Ford's inability to post a victory since May 9.

Ford gave up one hit, making it a two-hitter for the Ford-Coates combination and extending the scoreless innings streak to 28 1-3. The latest victory kept the Yankees' American League lead at one game over the Minnesota Twins, who edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1. Third-place Cleveland belted Boston 15-9 with a six-run uprising in the 13th inning and remained two games off the pace.

The Los Angeles Angels got a two-hit pitching performance from newly-acquired Don Lee and defeated Kansas City 7-1, and Detroit and Washington split a doubleheader. The Tigers took the first 7-6 in 10 innings, then were shut out 1-0 on six hits by Dave Stenhouse.

Held to two hits by Chuck Estrada for seven innings, the Yankees cut loose against reliever Hoyt Wilhelm (2-4) when Estrada was willied in the eighth with a pulled elbow muscle. Singles by Tom Tresh, Coates and Bobby Richardson accounted for the game's lone run.

Don Mincher broke up a pitching duel between the Twins' Jack Kralick (5-4) and John Buzhardt (6-5) of the White Sox when he lined a single in the last of the eighth, driving in Lenny Green with the deciding run.

Ed Bressoud's two-out homer for the Red Sox in the last of the ninth tied that game, but the Indians wound up winning it big when Willie Kirkland's two-run homer started a six-run 13th inning outburst that put it away.

Lee (4-3) making his first appearance for the Angels since they acquired him in a trade with Minnesota, gave up the A's only run when Joe Azcue doubled in the sixth and eventually scored on Bobby Del Greco's grounder.

The Tigers scored the tying run in their opener on Chuck Cottier's error, then won it in the 10th for Ron Nischwitz (2-0) on Rocky Colavito's sacrifice fly. Stenhouse (4-1) became the first pitcher to shut out the Tigers this season when he turned in a six-hitter in the nightcap.

Major League Stars

By The Associated Press
Pitching—Jim Coates, Yankees, came on in relief in second inning when Whitey Ford had to leave with shoulder pains and allowed only a single the rest of the way to blank Baltimore 1-0 and register New York's third consecutive shutout.

Batting—Willie Kirkland, Indians, hitting .189 going into the game, drove in four runs, the last two with a homer in the 13th that started a six-run rally for a 15-9 victory over Boston.

Fight Results

By The Associated Press
Totowa, N.J. — Don McAteer, 179, Paterson, N.J. awarded decision over Tom McNeely, 199 Boston. (McNeely disqualified in 6th round for low blows).

Los Angeles — Tony Herrera, 126, Inglewood, Calif., knocked out Ray Valdez, 125, Mexicali, Mexico, 4.

Brisbane—Alfredo Cota, 147½, Mexico, outpointed Gary Cowburn, 144½, Australia, 12.

Slugged Ed Mathews of the Milwaukee Braves drew 11 bases on balls in his team's first 14 games this spring, yet he had driven in 16 runs on 11 hits, including six homers.

Phillies Hand Reds 5th Loss In Row

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dennis Bennett, young southpaw pitcher for the Philadelphia Phillies, took Friday night's teen-age twist party at Crosley Field to heart.

In short, he was the best twister on all, holding the Cincinnati Reds to four hits and dealing their fifth consecutive defeat, 10-3.

"My curve ball was twisting and I threw it a lot," the 22-year-old Californian said afterward.

This was the same rookie who shut out the Los Angeles Dodgers last Saturday and ended their 13-game winning streak.

It was another night of frustration for Cincinnati manager Fred Hutchinson in his hunt for dependable pitching.

He started Johnny Klippstein on the mound, but the veteran right-hander was wild and bowed out during a five-run fifth inning. Moe Drabowsky, Ted Wills and Jim Brosnan followed.

Home runs by Tony Taylor and Don Demeter made the going easy for Bennett who did not allow a hit until the fifth, when pinch-hitter Joe Gaines hit a home run after a walk.

Bennett, who chews bubble gum while pitching, and won't quit because he is superstitious, also got his first major league hit. That came in the fifth and brought in two runs.

The Phils, who won only three games from the Reds all last season, now hold a 4-3 edge over them in 1962.

Owens smacked a single and a double and was walked once in his three plate appearances and scored twice. Bob King also doubled for the winners.

Class G

In Class G action, the Fire Department remained unbeaten as it outscored K of C 5-1. The winners tallies came on single runs in the third, fourth and fifth and two more in the seventh.

Bob Bentley and Tom Bica each banged out triples to lead the winners attack while Dave Cleckner smacked a double for the losers.

John Mlinarcik was tagged for the loss, giving up six hits before being relieved by Jay Hunston in the seventh. Bica hurled for the victors.

In another Class G tilt the Eagles broke into the win column by trouncing the Lions 17-1 in a free-scoring affair.

Val Altomar and Gary Morrison provided much of the batting power. Altomar banged out two doubles and a triple in four appearances and Morrison had a triple and a two-bagger.

Scott Annis and Bary Rhodes pitched for the Eagles crew with Annis getting the win. Gary Smith suffered the defeat for the Lions.

Twenty-four hits were recorded in the Hunt's Ind. Union-Petrucchi's battle with Hunt's collecting fifteen and dumping Petrucchi's 18-12.

Kenny Kenst paced the winners with three doubles and a one-bagger with Dave Votaw leading the losers with a triple.

Pitcher Rick Royle went all the way for Hunt's, striking out four and walking six. Scott Cranmer started for the losers but was relieved by Bob Briskin who later yielded to Larry Kibler. Scott Cody was the last pitcher for Petrucchi's.

Class H

Two games were played in Class H. Merchants Vending edged Dairy Isle 5-4 and Aile's Insurance bounced the Jaycees 13-3.

Down 4-2 going into the top half of the final inning, Merchants Vending shoved across three runs and then blanked Dairy Isle to claim the win.

Relief hurler Tim Weingart got the win for the Merchants with Terry Yingling taking the loss. Tom Shea started for the winners but needed help in the fourth.

Rich Cranmer and Nelson Stoddard each had three-baggers to lead the Merchants' crew while Scott Riffle banged two singles for the losers.

A ten-run spurt in the second inning wrapped up the game for Aile's Insurance.

The winner's 13 runs were the result of seven hits, seven free bases and one Jaycee miscue.

Dusty Rhodes started on the mound for the Jaycees, was relieved by Art Bowen who was relieved by Bud Hiltabran.

The winner's Craig Anderson got the only extra base hit of the night when he blasted a double in the free-scoring second inning.

Yale has beaten Connecticut in each of the 13 football games played since the rivalry began in 1948.

Giants Trounced 8-4 by Cardinals

Wills 'Steals' 1st Place For Los Angeles

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Who says you can't steal first? The Los Angeles Dodgers did it Friday night, snatching first place in the National League on the base stealing of mercurial Maury Wills. The swift shortstop ran the Dodgers to a 4-3 victory over the Houston Colts when he walked in the 13th inning, swiped two bases, then scored the winning run on a short sacrifice fly.

The steals were his 31st and 32nd this season.

The Dodgers took a half-game edge over the San Francisco Giants, who were trounced by the St. Louis Cardinals 8-4. It was the third setback in a row for the Giants and the fourth straight victory for the Cards, on the rebound after a string of eight defeats.

Elsewhere in the league, Philadelphia beat Cincinnati's slumping Reds 10-3, and the New York Mets snapped their losing streak at 17, trimming the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in the opener of a doubleheader. The Cubs won 3-2 in the second game, called in the eighth inning because of darkness. Rain washed out the Pittsburgh-Braves game at Milwaukee.

Wills drew a walk off reliever Don McMahon at Houston, stole second and third, then sprinted home on Willie Davis' fly to center. Larry Sherry held off the stubborn Colts in the last inning and was the winner with 4 1-3 innings of scoreless relief.

Ken Boyer and Bill White led a 14-hit barrage and Lindy McDaniel turned in a perfect relief stint as the Cards rolled over the Giants, who find themselves out of first place for the first time since April 30. Boyer climaxed a decisive four-run uprising in the fifth against Juan Marichal by homering with one on and also had a single. White knocked in three runs with a homer and two singles.

Dennis Bennett's four-hit pitching and the Phils' five-run fifth inning pushed the Reds to their fifth straight loss. Bennett chipped in with a two-run single during the fifth as the Phils piled up a 7-0 lead against loser Johnny Klippstein and reliever Moe Drabowsky. Roy Sievers knocked in three Philadelphia runs with a double and single.

The Mets ended their long name and made it 4-for-4 against the Cubs in the ninth inning of the opener at Chicago when Charlie Neal sent in the winning run with a bases-loaded sacrifice fly. Jay Hook was the winner and Glen Hobbie was pined with his seventh loss in eight decisions.

Ron Santo, who had a two-run homer in the first game, decided the second when he singled across two runs in the seventh, breaking a 1-1 tie.

Beatty Sets World Mark In 2-Mile Run

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Explosive little Jim Beatty claimed a world record of 8:29.8 for two miles Saturday, the first by an American at this distance since 1936.

The 5-foot-6, 126-pound Beatty uncorked the run in the Southern Pacific AAU Track and Field Championships at Occidental College's Patterson Field Friday night. He races for the Los Angeles Track Club.

He bettered the recognized record of 8:32 flat made by Australia's Albert Thomas in Dublin, Ireland, Aug. 7, 1958.

Murray Halberg of Australia was credited with 8:30 flat in a race in Finland in 1961 but it was never recognized.

The 27-year-old native New Yorker, adopted son of Charlotte, N.C., and now living here, disclosed he took dead aim at the record.

"I wouldn't have started it if I didn't think I had a chance for a record," Beatty said.

It was the dark-haired, personable Beatty's first run since March 31 in the Santa Barbara

Jim Brown's Wife Sues for Divorce

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Brown, star Cleveland fullback who last week signed a contract to make him the highest paid pro football player in history, has been sued for divorce.

His wife, Sue, 25, alleges gross neglect and extreme cruelty. The couple, married in June 1959, have three children, including twins.

In a preliminary action, Mrs. Brown tied up her husband's savings accounts in three banks as well as his 1962 automobile and their six-room home. She seeks custody of the children, alimony and child support.

Snead Holds Tourney Lead

Two Strokes Ahead In Second Round

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — For once, Sam Snead wasn't complaining about his putting — he couldn't very well.

But he must have thrown a few apprehensive glances over his shoulder long after leaving the Upper Montclair Country Club, where he posted a second round 66 and a 136 total for the 36-hole lead in the $100,000 Classic Golf Tournament.

Snead, who habitually moans about putts that won't drop, canned a dozen good ones early Friday. Then, with hardly a comment, he disappeared while the rest of the field tried to catch up to him.

No one succeeded in catching Sam during the long, hot afternoon, but Gene Littler, Dave Marr and Earl Stewart all came close. They tied for second at the 36-hole mark with 138s.

One stroke farther back was slender Paul Harney and at 140 were Gay Brewer, the first round leader; Dow Finsterwald, Frank Boynton, Wes Ellis and Buster Cupit, elder of a pair of sharp-shooting brothers. The younger, Jacky Cupit, was among five tied at 141.

The putts that dropped were the high spots of Snead's second round, after an opening 70. He missed seven greens, but wound up six under par for the day and eight under for two rounds over the 7,055-yard, par 72 Upper Montclair course.

He one-putted eleven greens, chipped in once and three-putted only once for a total of 24 putts on 18 holes. And that came on a day when such ordinary steady putters as Littler and Arnold Palmer weren't able to sink any good ones on the eccentric greens.

"I didn't play so badly if I could have putted at all decent," said Palmer after posting a 74 for a 147 total that barely put him among the 96 pros who survived the first cut in the field. The cutoff score was 149.

A word from
THERON at the Old Country Store

I was just out past one of my highway signs. Some one, for a joke put a trading stamp sign on it. I left it there because I think all trading stamp plans are a joke. I can't decide who is the biggest joker, the one who gives them or the one who saves them. I used to give them till I lost my sense of humor. It just wasn't funny any more, when that stamp collection man come every week for his $500.00 payoff, now I give it to my customers in cash. The more informed ones are real happy about it.

Questions—Answers

Q—Where did Canada get its name?
A—Probably from a word in the Huron-Iroquois language meaning "a collection of lodges."
Q—Does cold or warm water evaporate faster?
A—Warm water.
Q—Is sleep or food more vital to man?
A—Sleep. Man can survive longer without food.
